01 · EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Proposal at a Glance

We propose a 2027 Corporate Capability Programme. It gives training by job role to your leaders, managers and specialist teams. We design it around your sector, your regulators and your goals for the year.

Every organisation has two training questions each year. First, what new skills do our people need now that technology, threats and rules have changed? Second, how do we keep required yearly training useful when the risks keep changing? This proposal answers both.

Emerging needs

These courses build the skills your teams need this year. Topics include leading digital change, governing AI and stopping new types of fraud.

Annual mandates

This is the regular training your regulators and auditors expect. It covers compliance, risk, data protection and safety. We update it each year to reflect real changes.

Built around you

We start with a needs assessment. Then we build the course plan with your business and compliance leads. Expert international trainers deliver it on site, remotely or both. Afterwards, we give refresher sessions and completion records.

Training by job role

Content matches each job. Each group learns what it will really use.

Expert trainers

Experienced professionals from around the world, matched to each topic.

Our promise to you

At the end of the programme, your team can run it without us.

A Training Partner, Not Just a Vendor

Infinite Icon Technology is an IT consultancy and corporate training company. We started in 2022 and our head office is in Dubai. We serve the UAE and African markets.

We work with banks, government bodies and growing businesses. Their people need to keep up with their goals. Corporate training is one of our two practice areas. The other is IT consulting, and the two areas support each other. We design and run systems for clients every day. So we understand the systems, risks and rules your teams work with.

Our recent work includes an executive programme in Toronto, Canada. It was for bank board members and covered governance, international banking and organisational resilience.

03 · YOUR 2027 LANDSCAPE

Why Training Matters in 2027

Four pressures are changing what people need to know in every sector we serve. Training that did not change last year is already out of date.

AI and digital change

Leaders must approve, govern and get value from AI and digital platforms. Teams must use them safely and well.

New threats and new fraud

Deepfakes, fake identities, ransomware and social engineering now target every employee. The risk is not only for the IT team.

Tighter regulation

Regulators in the UAE and Africa want proof. Training must be current, matched to each role and completed, not only planned.

Leadership and talent

Growth needs confident managers. They must deliver strategy, lead change and keep good people.

Two streams, one plan

We divide every programme into two streams. You build new skills and stay compliant with one shared calendar.

STREAM A · EMERGING YEARLY NEEDS

- New skills as technology, threats and practice change
- Built new each year around your strategy
- Typical topics include AI governance, digital transformation, fraud defence and leadership for change

STREAM B · CONSISTENT ANNUAL MANDATES

- Regular training your regulators expect
- The core content stays. We add this year's changes.
- Typical topics include AML/CFT, data protection, conduct, information security and safety

> The rules stay the same each year. The threats do not. Your training must keep up with both.

Our Training Portfolio

Our courses fall into six practice areas. Below are sample courses. We combine and adapt them to build your programme.

01 Leadership & Executive Presence

We build confident, visible leaders at every level. This includes first line managers and the executive committee.

- Executive Leadership Presence
- Advanced Leadership in Strategy & Governance
- Strategic Human Capital Management
- Women in Leadership

Delivery options

On site

Face to face at your offices or at a venue we arrange. Best for labs, simulations and team exercises.

Remote

Live online sessions led by our trainers. Best for teams in different branches or countries.

Blended

A mix of both. Each module uses the format that suits it best.

Our Methodology

We work in four stages. We follow them the same way every time. The order matters. We assess before we build, and we train while we build.

STAGE 1

Assess

We review your current skills, roles, policies and goals. Then we find the best starting point for each group.

STAGE 2

Design

We build the course plan with your business and compliance leads. We use your own products, systems and rules as case material.

STAGE 3

Deliver

Expert trainers run your sessions on site, remotely or both. Sessions include case studies, simulations and knowledge checks. We plan them around your work calendar.

STAGE 4

Sustain

We give refresher sessions and completion records for your auditors. We also review the year to plan the next one.

We make routine work standard so we can focus on your people

Logistics, materials, scheduling and records follow a standard process. Our ISO 9001:2015 quality management system controls this process. Our trainers can then spend their time where it matters most. That is with your people, their questions and the situations they face at work.

What stays fixed

- Our four stage method and quality process
- Expert trainers checked for each topic
- Completion records your auditors accept

What we tailor to you

- Courses, depth and case material
- Schedule, session length and language
- Format, venue and group sizes

Assess before you build. Train while you build. Sustain after launch.

Designed Around the Brain

Our sessions follow the AGES model of learning. It names four conditions that help people remember and use what they learn.

A

Attention

Focused sessions without distractions. They have clear goals, short parts and regular changes of activity.

G

Generation

Participants make their own connections. They discuss, analyse cases and apply ideas to their real work.

E

Emotion

Real scenarios and simulations that matter to participants. This helps learning last.

S

Spacing

Learning is spread over time and supported by refresher sessions.

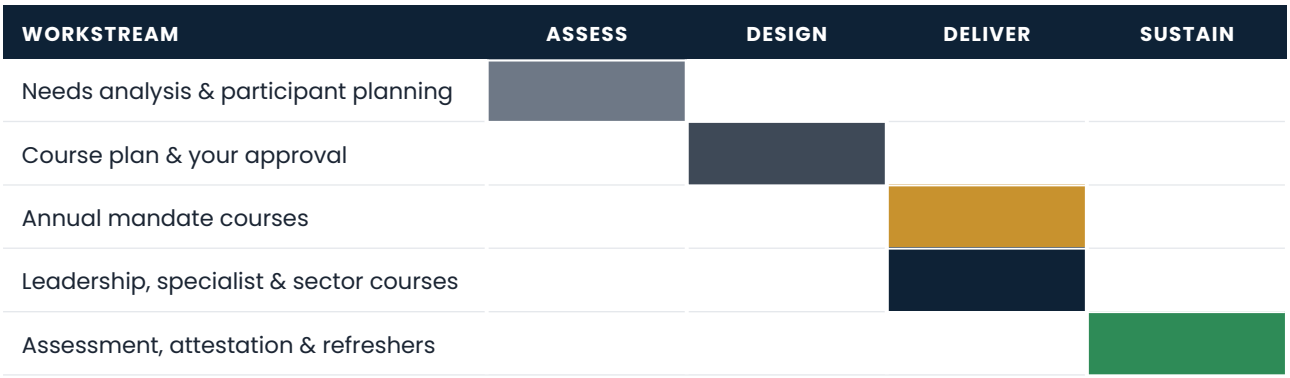

What a session looks like

- Sessions led by instructors, with several experts when the topic needs them
- Presentations with visual tools and job aids
- Discussion that links the content to each participant's role
- Case studies, role play and simulations from your sector
- Knowledge checks before and after each course
- Certificates and completion records for every participant

> We use discussion to connect with every participant and involve them. People use what they help to build.

A Typical Programme Journey

Every programme follows the same journey. Your goals set its length. We agree your plan, schedule and start date after the needs assessment. We schedule yearly required courses (gold) early. We run courses for new needs (navy) at the same time.

Key milestones

STAGE	MILESTONE
Assess	Start meeting with your stakeholders, interviews and a baseline knowledge check
Assess	We share the needs assessment. You approve the courses, groups, format, venue and start date.
Design	Your leads approve the content. The first sessions begin.
Deliver	Yearly required training complete
Deliver	Final sessions complete for every group
Sustain	We hand over the completion report, attestation records and refresher plan

BEFORE

Stakeholder interviews, a baseline check and an approved plan. Nothing starts without your approval.

DURING

Attendance and progress updates after each course. You have one named programme lead to call.

AFTER

Completion report, attestation records and a refresher plan for next year.

09 · INVESTMENT

Your Investment

Fees depend on the courses, number of participants, format and location. We confirm a detailed, fixed price after the needs assessment. There are three ways to work with us.

OPTION 1

Per participant

One fee for each participant. Best for executive programmes and smaller groups.

Priced per participant

OPTION 2 · IN HOUSE

Per cohort

A fixed fee for each in house group, up to an agreed size. Best for in house programmes.

Priced per cohort

OPTION 3

Annual programme

One fee for a full year of courses, required training and refreshers. Best for plans across the whole organisation.

Priced per programme

What you receive

- Needs assessment and baseline knowledge check
- Course plan built for your sector, systems and regulators
- Sessions led by expert trainers
- Participant materials, job aids and certificates
- Completion and attestation records for your auditors
- Refresher sessions after the programme

What we assume

- We agree courses, duration, participant numbers and group sizes after the needs assessment
- We agree the delivery format with you during the needs assessment
- For on site sessions, we can arrange a venue for your approval
- Travel and accommodation for international programmes are priced separately
- This proposal is valid for 12 months, until October 2027

Every project ends in the same way, whatever model you choose. Your team can run it without us.

Why Choose Us?

Focused on you

We shape each programme around your team, your budget and your rules. We do not use a standard template.

Built to grow

Our course plans grow with you. They extend easily into new markets and business lines.

Regional knowledge

We understand local infrastructure, compliance rules and talent in the UAE and Africa.

Certified quality

Our ISO 9001:2015 quality management system guides how we plan, deliver and improve.

Expert international trainers

Experienced professionals in banking, finance, governance, risk, technology and leadership.

One partner

One team handles assessment, design, delivery and refreshers from start to finish.
